

FIGURE 3.4 Note the difference in activity between the brain scan on the left, which is simply recalling information, and the activity in the scan on the right, which is responding to a complex question.

